BIG CONFERENCE A SUCCESS; END SESSIONS HERE

Pastors and Others Interested in the Interchurch World Movement Leave For Homes—Prepare For Big Financial Drive

The State Pastors' Conference and the State Woman's Conference of the Interchurch World Movement finished their sessions yesterday afternoon. These conferences were without doubt the most inspiring and helpful ever held in the state, according to those directing the conferences, who added that this impression was not an individual one. The attendance was far greater than was expected.

In spite of washouts on the roads, the ministerial attendance from over the state reached more than 100. All counties were represented, with the exception of two, and all the cooperating denominations had representatives at the conference. Nearly all of the ministers have left the city for their homes.

The immediate work before the Interchurch World Movement is to plan for county meetings similar to the state meeting held, to be conducted in various centers. Two selected teams will bring the program to each county in Arizona. The personnel of the teams have not yet been fully decided upon, but the dates of these county meetings are fixed by the New York office.

Dr. Agar, the New York representative on the team, and one of the most popular speakers on the Phoenix program, was asked by the state secretary to prepare a brief statement that might be of interest to many.

Makes Statement

The following is Dr. Agar's statement:

"The financial enterprise confronting the churches of Arizona is perhaps the largest task that Protestant Christianity has faced. To raise over one billion and one half dollars in four years seems like attempting the impossible. But Methodism has shown that such a financial undertaking by the rest of Protestantism can be accomplished with the help of the Lord. Arizona is to take her full quota of this stupendous sum, and very much of what is raised will be expended to fix more firmly in this growing commonwealth the great ideals of Jesus Christ.

"Work among the Mexicans, among the Indians, in the unoccupied portions of the state, among Americans; work in hospitals and other forms of practical Christianity will fill up the program that is to be undertaken. The drive will take place between April 25th and May 2nd, and in those eight days while all the rest of the country is subscribing its share, the Christian citizens of Arizona will be asked to sign up for their full portion.

"To accomplish this task, a very careful organization is being perfected, under the leadership of Lyman Pierce, who headed a number of the large war drives of recent years. This state will have its own financial campaign director representing the Interchurch World Movement, and every denomination will have a similar official. This will form the cabinet that undertakes the whole task throughout all the state. Each county will be organized on a similar plan, and finally every community will also be organized in the same way. Every local church will have its campaign director, and through team captains will undertake to visit every man, woman and child in its constituency to ask from them their share of this large sum.

"Every friendly Christian citizen will be visited and asked if he would like to have a share in this undertaking. It is expected that a most hearty and cordial response will be returned to these appeals and that, as a result of the giving of these millions of money, a new type of civilization will help the people of America to face the responsibility of citizenship and the opportunity of Christian service."

Report on Convention

During the early part of the conference, a committee was selected by the state secretary and the team for the purpose of making a report at the close of the convention. This committee met Wednesday noon and after deliberation agreed upon the following report, which was read and unanimously adopted at the Wednesday afternoon session:

"We, your committee appointed to voice your sentiments regarding the great conference through which we have just passed, take pleasure in reporting:

"That for three days we have listened with very great pleasure and in most hearty sympathy to the great and strong presentation of the aim and hopes of the Interchurch World Movement; that we find ourselves unanimously in hearty sympathy with those great purposes; that while some of the denominations represented here on account of the plans previously formed and which can not immediately be adjusted cannot enter fully into this new movement, we all take pleasure in giving our heartiest endorsement and pledging our cooperation to the extent of our ability; that we recommend that the different denominations represented in this body shall, as early as may be feasible, re-adjust their plans in such a way that we may not only in spirit enter upon a great world movement, but that we shall be able to work along substantially similar lines.

"We rejoice in the wonderful hold that Christian work is getting upon the secular press, upon the leaders in our governmental life, and upon the people at large. We join heartily in the great evangelistic campaign in which we shall all be engaged with the hope of very largely increasing the membership of all our churches and very greatly augmenting the spirit and power of these churches.

"As a conference, we tender our hearty thanks to the people who have so generously entertained us during our stay; to the daily press for the excellent reports of our deliberations; to the Presbyterian Church for the generous use of their building; to the Y. M. C. A. for courtesies rendered; to the local representatives of Interchurch World Movement, Revs. E. D. Riley and S. C. Hoover, for their untiring efforts to make the conference the complete success that it has been, and to those splendid speakers who have made up the team that has given us such a wonderful view of this great movement.

"This delightful gathering strengthens our faith as we pray God to hasten the time we all shall be one in a great and united movement to bring the world to Jesus."

MISSOURIANS HERE TO BANQUET JUDGE DYER

Judge David P. Dyer of Missouri, who is presiding over the special term of federal court, will be entertained by Missourians while here, according to Amos Betts, member of the corporation commission, and a former resident of the "show me" state.

Mr. Betts stated yesterday that while several former residents of Missouri had called upon the distinguished visitor, there were many who had not yet had the honor of meeting him. A leading member of the Missouri society, Mr. Betts will call Missourians together shortly and plan an affair in honor of Judge Dyer. It is understood that a dinner at one of the leading downtown hotels or clubs will be suggested.

Judge Dyer, who is a brilliant speaker, will be asked to make an informal talk, and there will be brief addresses by members of the society.

The Witchery of Rita!

A delightful little story of the old Spanish Mission Days in our golden southwest, relating in a charmingly entertaining fashion the difficulties of two lovers, Rita and Rafael, with Nicolas, a brown goat possessing a thirst for Spanish wine.

The story is woven around old San Xavier Mission, about the time of its completion.

In the same volume you'll find another story, "Waiting for Tonti," equally entertaining, bringing a suggestion of a life and people long since gone from Montezuma's Castle.
